

bibliothecca hybrid workstation™

improve workflow efficiency and ergonomics

This timesaving workstation combines item identification and security into a single operation. With its flexible design for improved ergonomics, the workstation improves efficiency and increases productivity by processing both barcodes and RFID tags at checkout and return. The workstation can also perform barcode-to-RFID conversions for new acquisitions and smaller scale collections. The 'case set' feature empowers you to identify if the case and the item match without opening the case which reduces handling time. The verifier light confirms the presence of a sensitized Tattle-Tape™ Security Strip. Best of all, with RFID the workstation won't damage or erase sensitive materials, such as videos and cassettes.
